

The role of the Judiciary in environmental dispute resolution

- Environmental cases
  - Complexity
  - Difficulties in obtaining proof and evidence
  - Environmental impact latency
  - Challenge in evaluation of an impact of interconnected ecosystem
  - Lack of or incomplete market of harmed natural resources
- The role of the Judiciary in environmental cases
  - Filing a case
    - Plaintiffs and standing
    - Community rights
    - Class action
  - Jurisdiction
    - The Court of Justice
    - Administrative Court
  - court proceeding
    - The court's role
    - Burden of proof
      - Issues in practice
    - Weight of evidence
      - Perplexity of contents
      - Reliability of expert witness and research
  - legal execution
    - conflicts of different court's legal executions
    - problems in practice
- Issues on the new bill on environmental case procedure

